If geosismen fear that danger lucks in the lengthened in terral between the convention of the 24 h inst and the election, they have it completely in their pawer, as executive committee, to reduce the interval by changing the time for holding the convention from November 24th to December 3rd. This would preserve the exact interval that the committee their deliberate judgment established as beat for the success of the democratic tarty and the preservation of 1-s unity. Indeed, the interests of the party demand that this change he made. As the danger to the party is more to be dreaded from internal dis-receions than from external forces, we think that as much time as possible should be given, so that democrate of every shade of opinion might have ample opportunity to discuss and harmonize their differences.
